2003 Linares, Spain International Grandmaster Tournament

Peter Leko

This tournament was held from February 22 to March 9 and had a stellar line-up (Average rating – 2733). The players were :

SCC e – mail : scarboro@idirect.ca SCC Website : <http://webhome.idirect.com/~blamb/>
Stan Wadlow Park Clubhouse, 373 Cedarvale Ave.
(one block east of Woodbine Ave./Cosburn Ave. intersection, in former East York)

1. Vladimir Kramnik (Russia) – 2807 – current “ classical “ world champion;
2. Garry Kasparov (Russia) – 2847 – 13th FIDE world champion, and highest rated player in the world;
3. Ruslan Ponomariov (Ukraine) – 2734 – 2002 FIDE world champion;
4. Viswanathan Anand (India) – 2753 – 2000 FIDE world champion;
5. Peter Leko (Hungary) – 2736 – 2003 classical champion challenger;
6. Francisco Vallejo Pons (Spain)– 2629 – young rising Spanish grandmaster;
7. Teimour Radjabov (Azerbaijan) – another young rising grandmaster.

Each player played each other twice (double round robin).

Tied for first, with 7/12 pts., were Peter Leko and Vladimir Kramnik (undefeated). Leko won on tie break because he had the least number of draws. This is a big win for Leko, going into his world championship semi-final match with Kramnik later this year. He has clearly established that he deserves to be considered among our current top group of players. Tied for 3 / 4 were Kasparov and Anand with 6.5/7 pts.. Kasparov had only one loss, to the young Radjabov. Anand lost twice, to Leko and Kasparov. Ponomariov came in a disappointing 5th. He had three losses : to Kramnik, Kasparov and Anand. He will obviously have to bring his game up a notch or two if he hopes to win his semi-final world championship game against Kasparov June 19 – July 7.

Successful 2003 Toronto Class Tournament Held - March 7-9

Report by David Cohen, Tournament Director & President of the GTCL

The organization of the tournament started off slowly. Since there were no late fees, the only incentive to sign up early was the limited number of spaces available at the former Dutton Club. When only a few entries trickled in, including only one junior(despite the tournament's being held during the school break), I decided to cut the junior fee in half. This turned out to be a good move, as more than half of the 41 participants were juniors.

It was a pleasure to be sharing the site with one of Canada's premier tournament organizers, Vlad Dobrich, at his new Bayview Games Club. I could have done without the backgammon tournament which coincided with one of the rounds, but this was an unavoidable conflict that will not be repeated.

With everyone grouped by rating, 6 to a section, competition was fierce. The time control of Game/180 allowed everyone to play their best chess, and many struggles lasted the full 6 hours! Overall, all of the feedback I received on the tournament was positive. I won't do any more regular round robins because of the problem of players wanting byes. However, I am happy to retain the RR format for future FIDE rated events which I am planning.

The players in the two FIDE rated sections were arranged randomly, so that the ratings and the juniors were all evenly distributed. 11 FIDE rated players were joined by a recent immigrant to Canada from Israel, NM Michael Barron. Two juniors fought there way through to clear first in each section. In Group 1, Igor Divljan scored 3.5. In Group 2, newcomer to Canada - here only 1 week from China & USA, where he spent the past 5 years - 13 year old Zhe Quan scored 4.5 points. He always seemed to be in trouble in his games, defending well, even in time trouble. His reward was a performance rating of well over 2500! Igor and Zhe each received a prize of $100 plus free entry to my next FIDE RR.

Other section winners were: NM Charlie Tang (4.5); Fred Henderson and Walter Chan (3.5); Inigo Assaripallan (5) - perfect score!; Robert Kubik (5) - his 4 wins plus a one point bye placed him ahead of Jonathan Tayar, who had 4 points plus a 1/2 point bye; and Alfonso Cheng (3.5). Winners received or shared the $80 first prize, except in the last section with only 4 juniors, where first prize was $40.

Thanks to Lisette Lu for her support; Jaco Uwland for volunteering at this non-profit event run by the Greater Toronto Chess League; David Filipovich for suggesting the Master sections be FIDE rated; and to everyone who played and made this an enjoyable event.
